BIO

Jeremiah Davison is a multi-talented Artist, Artrepreneur, and Dreamer. Known as the man who can get anything done; he is a Producer, Director, Actor, Sound designer, & Audio Engineer. Although he is active in multiple disciplines, they all have been a vehicle in allowing him to pursue his ultimate passions in the art forms of Directing and Producing. He is a lover of collaboration and ensuring the story being told is meaningful, clear and brings light to all the collaborators and audiences. A Flint, Michigan native and currently based in Atlanta, GA, Jeremiah prefers to dedicate his time towards stories that spark communal conversation and highlight underrepresented communities.

As he continues to follow his dreams, he also has a deep dedication to helping others achieve their creative dreams. Jeremiah is a Co-Founder and The Chief Operating Officer (C.O.O) at Multiband Studios LLC. A Production Company dedicated to bringing high quality & innovative production to theatre, film, and live entertainment targeting creatives of color. To learn more about the BIPOC design collective visit, www.multibandstudios.com.

When not somewhere creating or mentoring, Jeremiah is constantly seeking to learn more from his mentors, colleagues, and other professional artists within the arts community. Jeremiah is a University of West Georgia (BA) and Georgia State Perimeter College (AA) alum. He is extremely thankful to his mentors, family and friends for their continuous support!
